Psychiatric Consultation and Internal Medical Staff

WRFC continues to build close, working relationships with a variety of private psychiatrists, psychologists, and speciality therapists across the region with appointments being scheduled as needed and in emergency situations. The program is located close to four psychiatric hospitals (two are in the region) and a crisis stabilization unit in the Paducah area. If a child is placed outside the home for any court or doctor-directed reason, the staff and foster families continue to work with client (even if per diem payments have ceased) through visitation, treatment planning, and discharge planning if allowed to do so by DCBS/DJJ. Medical files: Medication Administration forms, medication compliance reports, and infection control reporting is overseen by the agency Medical Director. Specific questions, case consultation, and reports outside normal baselines are all areas for seeking medical guidance from internal medical personnel.

Describe How the Program Supports Family Connections

WRFC fully recognizes that the youth's family is also a client while we have the privilege of working with their child. WRFC urges parental involvement through regular phone contact (phone cards are provided if there is an expense concern), family visitation, and at a minimum quarterly therapeutic planning sessions/case conferences. A number of the WRFC foster families actively communicate with biological families about their child's care and many welcome the biological family into their home for visitation, mentoring opportunities, and/or holiday functions. Family sessions and Supervised Visitation are provided if requested by DCBS. WRFC staff work with the family to ensure that visits (both supervised and unsupervised) are successful and that transportation is not a barrier.

Special Interventions Available Internally

Foster Care clinical and management staff are available 24/7/365 to client, families, and/or DCBS personnel and work closely with our foster parents in whatever capacity they need in order to be successful with every placement. Some foster homes are deemed specialized homes and have specific training in the areas of medically fragile, sexual offenders, over age 18, and large sibling groups.

Description of how the program exceeds licensure ratios

WRFC monitors staff/client ratios in order to give staff a true working knowledge of the clients and the families assigned to their case load. WRFC maintains the staff/therapeutic client caseload licensure requirement even though all children are not deemed therapeutic in order to provide the best quality services available to our clients.
